Dear Trade Union Members,

ETUI Education in cooperation with Wales TUC (United Kingdom), would like to invite you for an online training course entitled Union Environmental Representatives that will take place on 8 and 9 December 2021 (8 all day and 9 morning), via ZOOM.

Description:

In a time of climate change, more and more companies decide to implement environmental policies that aim to manage the environmental effects of their operations. Those policies have an impact not only on the energy consumption and waste generation of their industrial processes but also on the education and training of their employees in environmental issues. Because those policies affect workers’ working conditions, health, and safety, they cannot arguably be considered managerial prerogative only. Workers and their representatives should have their voices heard.

Aim:

- Strengthen the capacity of trade union representatives to negotiate environmental issues in their workplaces.

Learning outcomes:

- Gathering relevant information to successfully negotiate an agreement on environmental issues.
- Prioritizing actions that needed to be negotiated by assessing where improvements are necessary.
- Setting up a concrete plan to make the necessary improvements actionable.

Working languages:

- English, Italian and Dutch, other languages when 5 participants are requiring them.

Programme

The programme is attached, in English, Dutch, and Italian.

Venue

The training course will be held online on Zoom. Detailed technical instructions will be provided to selected participants.

Target public:

- TU officers and representatives who may be responsible for the environment, energy, climate change and sustainability.
- TU representatives at the company and sectoral level involved in health and safety and environmental policies.

Participants’ registration

Interested participants are invited to submit their registration to this link:
