

Invitation to an ETUI webinar

Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to invite you to participate in the first webinar of the ETUI “Pedagogy Pills” series, entitled “AI for Education: challenges and perspectives for Trade Union training”, which will take place on Zoom on 18th June 2026 from 14.30 to 15.15 (Brussels time).

Artificial Intelligence is rapidly transforming the ways we access information, communicate, learn, and work. These developments are increasingly affecting educational practices and training environments, including trade union education. At the same time, AI raises important pedagogical, ethical, social, and political questions concerning knowledge production, critical thinking, accessibility, labour, and democratic participation.

This first short webinar is conceived as an open and exploratory session addressed to trainers and education officers involved in trade union education. Rather than offering ready-made answers, it aims to create a collective space for exchange, reflection, and mutual learning around the opportunities, risks, expectations, and concrete uses of AI in educational contexts.

The session will also serve as a first needs-analysis moment in preparation for a broader ETUI webinar on AI and Education planned for September 2026. Participants will therefore be invited to share experiences, practices, questions, and training needs related to the use of AI in their own educational activities and organisations.

Webinar structure

The webinar will include:

- A short introduction on AI and its implications for education and trade union training
- A discussion aimed at identifying priorities, interests, and possible directions for future activities on AI and education.

Target group

The webinar is intended for trainers, education officers, ETUI networks, ETUI contact points, Eurotrainers, and colleagues involved in trade union education and training activities.

Working language

The working language will be English.
